

Happy Haku Lei Project

Learn how to make a Hawaiian fresh flower crown, which will then be distributed to gynecologic oncology patients!

- What: a 1 ½ hour workshop to learn the art of haku lei making, with all materials provided
- Why: to learn a bit of Hawaiian culture and to show our support for patients battling gynecologic cancers
- When: Thursday, April 11th, 2019—there will be two workshop times
 - Workshop A: 3pm-4:30pm
 - Workshop B: 4:30pm-6pm
- Where: WUSM's Farrell Learning and Teaching Center 401 & 402
- Please RSVP to reserve your spot! Attendance will be capped at 26 participants per workshop.
 - RSVP by filling out this Google form:
<https://goo.gl/forms/l8LmIFa4eb9Ad8HH3>

For more information, contact Iris Kuo (iriskuo@wustl.edu). We are grateful to Siteman Cancer Center for supporting this project.

